NEGATIVE NOTICE VS EX-PARTE MOTIONS

Local Rule 9014.1 sets out procedures for negative notice. There are some motions, objections and other matters that may be considered by the court without a hearing under the negative notice procedure described in this Rule if no party in interest requests a hearing. These matters are listed in the LR. Once all rule requirements have been met, and in the event no party in interest timely files an objection, the court may consider the matter without further notice or hearing upon the movant's submission of an order granting the relief. Nothing in this rule is intended to preclude the court from conducting a hearing on the motion, objection, or other matter even if no objection is filed within the time permitted in the negative notice legend.

Ex-parte motions do not require a hearing date and time. Normally an order on an ex-parte motion is uploaded on the same day the motion is filed. If the order is granted, this usually concludes the matter. However, except for certain matters allowed to be filed ex-parte (as set out in the local rules), such motions are rarely granted. See Local Rules 1009, 2014\(b\), 3017, 4001\(a\)\(3\), and 4002 for more information on ex-parte motions.
