DEBTOR ELECTRONIC BANKRUPTCY NOTICING (DeBN)

The U.S. Bankruptcy Court for the District of Nevada offers debtors the opportunity to request receipt of court notices and orders via email, instead of via U.S. mail, pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9036, through a program called "Debtor Electronic Bankruptcy Noticing" or "DeBN."

Debtors requesting participation in the DeBN program must complete and file a Debtor's Electronic Noticing Request (DeBN) form with the court where their case is filed.

Note: Only the court is authorized to send notices to the debtor through this DeBN program. All other parties, such as trustees and creditors, will continue to serve the debtor via U.S. mail or in person as required by court rules.

DeBN provides the following advantages:

- Faster — You'll receive notices the same day they are filed by the court.
- Convenient — Access your notices anywhere you have internet access.
- No more lost paperwork — Storing notices on your computer means never losing a paper copy.
- Less paper clutter — Helps the environment and reduces paper clutter in your home.
- It is FREE!

How Long Will a DeBN Account Remain Active?

A DeBN account remains active, unless:

- Debtor's account is automatically disabled due to an email transmission failure (email bounce-back); or
- Debtor files a request to deactivate the account. A debtor may file this request at any time.

As long as the debtor's DeBN account is active, the Bankruptcy Noticing Center (BNC) will email court-prepared notices and orders to the debtor in any current or future bankruptcy or adversary case from any bankruptcy court district in which the debtor's name and address in that case match the name and address in the debtor's DeBN account.

How Does DeBN Work?

Once the debtor files a DeBN request form and the clerk's office creates the DeBN account, all future court-prepared notices or orders will be emailed to the debtor. When the court files a notice or order and sends it to the BNC for service upon the debtor, the BNC will email the notice to the debtor at the end of the day.

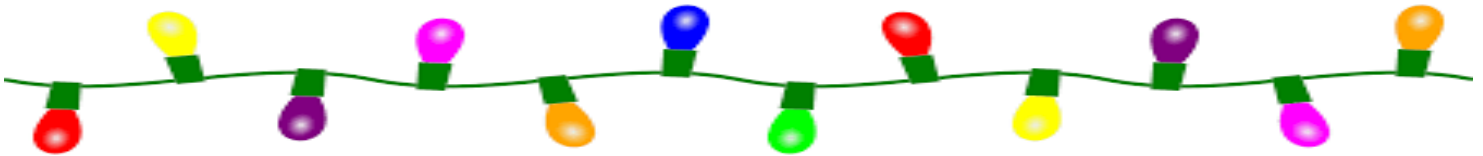

The court notice or order will be emailed as a single PDF attachment, and a separate email will be sent for each court notice or order that has been filed. There is no limit to the number of times the debtor may view the PDF attachment, and the debtor is free to print the attachment, save it to his or her computer, or simply retain the email for viewing at any time. If the PDF attachment exceeds 8 MB, the notice will be sent to the debtor by U.S. mail instead of email.
